

Run To You

The Rocket Summer

Turn, look, look out and see
Do you see me? 'Cause I think I see you
I've been some other place
The wind that I chase, it all just leads back to you Oh, how I'm still, so still It's so [Incomprehensible], but still outran
I knew you when I was young
But where am I now? That I'm a man Run to you, I will run, I will run
I will move, right on through
All these things that I have done
And you'll take me back, I don't know why I wanna say I'll never do it again
But I can't, but I will try Turn, look, look out and see
Do you see me? 'Cause I think I see you
I've been some other place
The wind that I chase it all just leads back to you Oh, how I miss what you miss
But I will fall time and again
And I will say that I'm true to you
But I'm a cheat, I don't understand So I'll run to you, I will run, I will run
I will move, right on through
All these things that I have done
And you'll take me back, I don't know why I wanna say I'll never do it again, but I can't
I wanna say I'll never do it again, but I can't
I wanna say I'll never do it again, but I can't
But I will try
