

Years After You

John Conlee

I don't know if I can explain it cause there's really nothing different at all the sun still burns the earth still turns and the winter still follows the fall I knew that it wouldn't be easy for my heart to find somebody new but I never thought it still would be broken in two these years after youthey tell me time is a natural healer it kinda smoothes the pain away but this hurtin' within hasn't yet given in and it seems like a million days I still remember the taste of your kisses and your eyes that were beautifully blue and I can still hear the sound of your voice when you said we were thru years after you[Chorus:] years after years after you I'm still cryin' tears after years after you I'm still tryin' to make it thru these years after youthere've been mornings when I couldn't wake up there've been evenings when I couldn't sleep ooo, my life will be fine for months at a time then I'll break down and cry for a week cause when I told you I'd love you forever I know you didn't think it was true but forever is nothing compared to some nights I've been thru these years after you[Chorus x2]I'll never get over you[Chorus]

Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by <https://damlyrics.com/>