Ivan Gough

(feat. Penelope Austin)

Wanted to shake these hopes
These fears right off of my shoulders
I just kept running, running, running
I just kept running, running alone

I left all I had known
To walk this path of thorns
But I just kept running, running, running
Until I found a place, to call home
Ohh ohh ohh home

Secrets are in the walls
They watch me crash
Let them fall
On hidden truths
In twisted turns
I see your ghost
And let them burn
Let them burn
Let them burn

Wanted to shake these hopes
These fears right off of my shoulders
I just kept running, running, running
I just kept running, running alone

I left all I had known
To walk this path of thorns
But I just kept running, running, running
Until I found a place, to call home
Ohh ohh ohh home

This heartless place
Has eagles eyes raising hell
From the lies
Oh, let me gamble with your life
And prove this legacy will never die, never die, never die

Wanted to shake these hopes
These fears right off of my shoulders
I just kept running, running, running
I just kept running, running alone

I left all I had known
To walk this path of thorns
But I just kept running, running, running
Until I found a place, to call home
