Pray for All

Chimaira

Everything was perfect before I found my dream
You were the world to me
When I used to hate myself for trying
Now relying on you for direction, seems so triteYour attitude was quick to change when you thought
One minute might go by without being sought
Who do you think you are, manipulator
How did it get this far, this farI will make you pay, pay for all the lives you've ruined
Pray, pray you're able to breathe while I strangle youI'll stop at nothing, don't doubt me, you've reigned enough
The lies you've been telling me, you've been caught
Your enemy is reality, your fatal flaw, meeting meWell I will make you pay, pay for all the lives you've ruined
Pray, pray you're able to breathe while I strangle you
While I strangle you
Pray you're able to breathe while I strangle youPray for all the lives you've ruined
Pray for all the lives you've ruined
Pray for all the lives you've ruined
Pray for all the lives you've ruinedEveryone you have betrayed will watch you burn
Everyone you have deceived will watch you burn, burn
Everyone will watch you burn, everyone will watch you burnI will make you pay, pay for all the lives you've ruined
Pray, pray you're able to breathe while I strangle you
Pray, pay for all the lives you've ruined
Pray, pray you're able to breathe while I strangle you
