

Hearts Against the Wind

Diamond Rio

Hearts that love where no love grows are gifts with no return
They know the coldest wind that blows where once a fire burned So blow hearts against the wind
They just blow hearts that ever break
They just won't mend without breakin' again Sow ye not the seeds of doubt that fade and fail in time
For in the end your love wins out and every star outshine So blow hearts against the wind
They just blow hearts that ever break
They just won't mend without breakin' again
