At the Zoo

Jason Rubero

If I was a Poppinjay
I tell you what I'd do
If I were a Poppinjay
I'd fly right into you

I'd tell you all my little dreams
And some big ones
I love you so
I love you from head to toe
I've got no language to explain it
I bet you hardly know

If I were a zoo keeper
I tell you what I'd do
Forget about the lions and the zebras
I'd make a home just for you

You could become
A new beast every week
Just imagine...
A body with wings and horns
And the head of a unicorn
I've loved you since before
The day that you were born

Oh yeah
