Suddenly Everything Has Changed

The Postal Service

Putting all the vegetables away
That you bought at the grocery store today
And it goes fast, you think of the past
Suddenly everything has changed
Ahh
Ahh
Ahh
Driving home the sky accelerates
And the clouds all form a geometric shape

Then it goes fast, you think of the past
Suddenly everything has changed
Ahh
Ahh
Ahh
Putting all the clothes you washed away
And as you're folding up the shirts you hesitate
Then it goes fast, you think of the past
Suddenly everything has changed
