

She Ain't Coming Home

Danko Jones

Heavy's the heart been touched by scorn
Weighing down on my world
Never shall be, never again

Steady my hand as I roamShe had to lie, come off my storm
And hearts were open to wounds
Darkness surveil, let we get burned

I barely escaped from my homeWhen I turned round, all that I found was lonely
Called out her name but nothing remained
And that is all I can say
She ain't comin' home!

She ain't comin' home!Always the last to figure it out
Now, all the pieces are won
Still can't believe that she did it all

Breaking my heart on her ownWherever she is, I hope that she hears my call
She was the one that let it be known
And that is all I can sayShe ain't comin' home!

She ain't comin' home!
She ain't comin' home!
She ain't comin' home!
She ain't comin' home!

She ain't comin' home!- Guitar solo -
She ain't comin' home!
She ain't comin' home!
She ain't comin' home!
She ain't comin' home!
