James

Maritime

The lights have a heartbeat not unlike that
Which starts me and the whole house
Starts moving and I've been wearing your clothes I can't fit inside
Your shoes there is no mystery to anything I do
Have you gone to pasture james?
You go to greater lengths to feel the same
Any length to feel like you felt yesterday
Like hospital corners you construct your life
In quarters and the whole house feels holy
When we stretch out on the floor we have no way of knowing How long we've been sleeping for
Have you gone to pasture james?
You go to greater lengths to feel the same
Any length to feel like you felt yesterday
And you want to go to heaven but you're not Sure where it is there are no miracles when you're always giving in
You feel so unaffected you don't show up anymore
And you feel numb, honey it's been done
Have you gone to pasture james?
You go to any length to feel like you felt yesterday
Have you gone have you gone have you gone

Lyrics powered by lyrics.tancode.com written by LLOYD COLE
Lyrics Â© EMI Music Publishing

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/