

Tonight I'll Let My Memory Take Me Home

Mark Chesnutt

It's been too long since I traveled down
That ol' gravel road on the north end of town
And I need a taste of the good ol' days gone
So tonight I'll let my memory take me home And I'll be seventeen on my way to pick her up
With a half a dozen roses in my Daddy's pickup truck
And for a little while I'll just hold her in my arms, dream on and on and on
Tonight I'll let my memory take me home We grew apart and I moved away
It's a choice I regret a little more every day
God I love to go back to the good ol' days gone
So tonight I'll let my memory take me home And I'll be seventeen on my way to pick her up
With a half a dozen roses in my Daddy's pickup truck
And for a little while I'll just hold her in my arms, dream on and on and on
Tonight I'll let my memory take me home Yesterday, ain't that far away
I'll just close my eyes and drift away I'll be seventeen on my way to pick her up
With a half a dozen roses in my Daddy's pickup truck
And for a little while I'll just hold her in my arms, dream on and on and on Tonight I'll let my memory take me home, dream on and on and on
Tonight I'll let my memory take me home
