Tonight I'll Let My Memory Take Me Home

Mark Chesnutt

It's been too long since I traveled down That ol' gravel road on the north end of town And I need a taste of the good ol' days gone So tonight I'll let my memory take me homeAnd I'll be seventeen on my way to pick her up With a half a dozen roses in my Daddy's pickup truck And for a little while I'll just hold her in my arms, dream on and on and on Tonight I'll let my memory take me homeWe grew apart and I moved away It's a choice I regret a little more every day God I love to go back to the good ol' days gone So tonight I'll let my memory take me homeAnd I'll be seventeen on my way to pick her up With a half a dozen roses in my Daddy's pickup truck And for a little while I'll just hold her in my arms, dream on and on and on Tonight I'll let my memory take me homeYesterday, ain't that far away I'll just close my eyes and drift awayI'll be seventeen on my way to pick her up With a half a dozen roses in my Daddy's pickup truck And for a little while I'll just hold her in my arms, dream on and on and on Tonight I'll let my memory take me home, dream on and on and on Tonight I'll let my memory take me home
