

A Father And A Son

Loudon Wainwright III

it's not strange, no mystery you and I are history I put up my protective wall it's 4 feet thick and 10 feet tall 10 feet tall and 4 feet thick granite, concrete, steel and brick protection for you, understand the little boy, the inner man boys kissed the girls then made them cry that's a man's job, that is why when you cry, you're just a clone of every woman I have known and every Harry, Dick and Tom gets all of this shit from his mom who was unhappy, mom was sad because of a wall that dad had once it's up it won't come down and mom's a queen and dad's a clown
it's not strange, no mystery that you and I are history it's 4 feet thick and 10 feet tall

Songwriters

WAINWRIGHT Published by

Lyrics © DOWNTOWN MUSIC PUBLISHING LLC Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941.
Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>