Hell Looks A Lot Like L.a.

Less Than Jake

He got in his car and told himself to drive gotta leave it all behind if he wants to feel alive vacant mind from endless grind so what's to lose anyways 19 and lost and never thought he'd ever leave this place Another 8 to 5 day? Another fast food job? Ten minutes and two miles is just a mile too many today and you can see why it's easy to say six months ago was the last she felt alive y'know that hell looks a lot like L.A. moved down from the north and told herself she'd try ignored and bored the same feelings as yesterday 18 and lost and never thought this place would change y'know that hell looks a lot like L.A. she said it's way too much more than she could take it's one less car that's in the way

Lyrics provided by
https://damnlyrics.com/