

Who Is Like the Lord

Unhindered

(spoken)

I hear voices in the distance,
But my heart is in resistance,
Trying to discern and learn the heart of the One for whom my heart burns.

Raising against lies of the enemy,
Claiming darkness the greater reality.
But there's something bigger than you and me,
Bigger than what I can see:

A city on a hill calling life to those who follow.
Healing and wholeness for those who sorrow.

Who holds the stars in His hand?
Built His temple in mortal man?
Called dry bones to rise and stand?
In the beginning was the Word,
The Word became flesh,
Darkness is history, that's the rest.

Who is like the Lord?
Who shows unfailing love to the undeserving,
Holy God and humbleness serving.
Those who mocked and crucified Him.
Dead, buried, rising again!
And us with Him!
Singing with Him in heavenly places
Higher than these earthly spaces.
It is finished, the ransom paid, foundation laid,
New hope, new life, it's a brand new day!

(music starts)

Forever I will glorify your name
For you alone display your love for me
My life will be a holy offering
Up to You.

I will love and adore you
There is no one above you
My soul will sing:

Who is like the Lord Almighty?
How beautiful Your name in all the earth!

Who is like the King of Glory?

My soul will sing:

You took on all my sin,
Made Your home within,
Now my life is in Your hands.
And everything I am,
everything I've been,
Is Yours,
Is Yours.

You took on all my sin,
Made Your home within,
Now my life is in Your hands.
And everything I am,
everything I've been,
Is Yours,
Is Yours.

Who is like the Lord Almighty?
How beautiful Your name in all the earth!

Who is like the King of Glory?

My soul will sing:

Who is like the Lord?

My soul will sing:

Who is like the Lord?

Who is like the Lord?

My soul will sing:

Who is like the Lord?

There's no one like You!

There's no one,

There's no one,

My soul will sing,

My heart will sing.

You hold the stars.

You bring new life.

You open our eyes to see You.

There's no one like You!

Glory, honor and power belong to You!

Glory, honor and power belong to You!

Glory, honor and power all belong, belong to You!
