The Posthumous Letter

William Control

Would you ever walk with me on the surface of the violent sun,
Would you give me air to breathe and show that I'm the worlds worst prodigal son,
This posthumous letter I've written to give you the strength to move on.
Don't cry for me any longer I'm lost.
(Chorus)
All that I am,
All that I've seen,
Take me now 'caues I'm nothing
Would you ever see the beast I've become silently holding me tongue,
Oh I have been here all along,
This post human life,
this post morbid fear and this lonely suits me well.
Don't cry for me any longer.
I just don't love you,
I just don't love you.
(Chorus) x 3
