In Trust I Return

Ikon

Turn your life to happiness
Turn your tears from sorrow
Place your trust in your command
For they will surely followFeel your life hang by the thread
When answers show your weakness
Beyond this earth there lies a hand
And shadowed lost shall lead youThis will be the day life will surely fade
You will hold no mercy
This will be the day take her hand and pray
For a new beginningIs there truth behind the mask
Of prophets and their meanings
There's much more than we can see
A sense of hope and freedomFace our gods upon your knees
Except our destination
Fear of change is only for a bad imagination
This will be the day life shall surely fadeYou will hold no mercy
This will be the day take her hand and pray
For a new beginning
Some dayTurn your life to happiness
Turn your tears from sorrow
Place your trust in your command
For they will surely followFrom: Flowers For The GatheringWords by Chris McCarter
