Before the Fall

Graham Colton

Trying to find the pieces only make you last the night
Been waiting for the hours to fall until the morning light
Down in the mid-east the time will move us north
Another season, time to find a new world
Waiting for the hours only to pass
Drowning all the seconds, trying to make them last
Are we at the ending? Oh, it's how the story goes
Before the fallWe climb a tower, we can watch the world go by Over the water, smooth until the midnight
I know that we'll be freezing if we take off all our clothes
We share a secret no one ever knows
We make a promise to jump off at the same time
You're taking off your dress and I will close my eyes
We blend in water cause waiting at night
It's a race for the prize
Before the fall
