Your Heart Must Be Tired

Sanders Bohlke

Well your eyes were weary
And your face is long
So is the road you've been traveling on What you've been running wild on Busted soulI want know, just what makes you go
Why you choose, to love him so
When the a rain comes pouring on
Your heavy heart is beating strong
Well your faith, its is fragile
And your tear are all gone
Cause you cried like somebodys, been loving you wrong
You've slept with lions and you've weathered the storm
What I wana know, is what makes you go
Why you choose, to love him so
When the rain comes pouring on
Your heavy heart is beating strong
What makes you love him
Is it the cold in his touch
Ohh your heart must be tired
Cause you've been crying, too much
You've been crying, too much
Well you've been crying, too much.
