Fade to Black

Zeromancer

You live your life day by day
You can't feel it's slippin' away
It's like heaven where you never get bored
You self inflicted rock 'n' roll whoreCan you feel it
Can you feel the clocks tickin' away
Can you feel it
Can you feel the clocks tickin' awayThe world doesn't change in a day
The world doesn't change it
The world doesn't change in a dayIt makes me sick to see what you need to breathe
It makes me sick to see what you need
The world doesn't change in a dayYou've got a thousand wounds to heal
You gotta stop thinkin' nothin's for real
Electric shock won't bring you back
You're fadin' baby, you fade to blackThe world doesn't change in a day
The world doesn't change it
The world doesn't change in a dayIt makes me sick to see what you need to breathe
It makes me sick to see what you need
The world doesn't change in a dayIt makes me sick to see what you need to breathe
It makes me sick to see what you need to breathe
It makes me sick to see what you need to breatheIt makes me sick to see what you need to breathe
It makes me sick to see what you need to breathe
It makes me sick to see what you mean to me
