

Promises

Erasure

It's a quarter to 12, and ain't no body answering.
Fell under your spell, but oooh that feeling was fleeting. I've had my fill, and I just don't want to fight anymore.
I know the stories well and I just can't take anymore. Keep your promises, I just need somebody to be there!
(the world inside me is breakin)
And if we can't be honest, baby don't you see we won't get nowhere. (on our own)
So won't you keep those promises, I just need someone to rely on, (the wind inside me is breaking)
Cause if we're not solid, everything will change and nothing will remain of the both of us! Promises, promises,
only promises, Whatever happened to that tender side I saw in you? What you made me do, those things, whoaoooooh, and I wonder how those vows we made, could then evaporate, like the rain at night it came and then it was gone. Keep your promises, I just need somebody to be there!
(the world inside me is breakin)
And if we can't be honest, baby don't you see we won't get nowhere. (on our own) So won't you keep those promises, I just need someone to rely on, (the wind inside me is breaking)
Cause if we're not solid, everything will change and nothing will remain of the both of us! Promises, promises,
only promises,
Promises, promises, only promises, Keep your promises, I just need somebody to be there!
(the world inside me is breakin)
And if we can't be honest, baby don't you see we won't get nowhere. (on our own) So won't you keep those promises, I just need someone to rely on, (the wind inside me is breaking)
Cause if we're not solid, everything will change and nothing will remain of the both of us!

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnlyrics.com/>