

Man of Two Worlds (Instrumental Version)

Ultravox

Taking shelter by the standing stones
Miles from all that moves
Breathing solitude, seeking confidence
A gift to me
Feeling spirits never far removed
Passing over me
And I greet them with open arms
Hand fighting hand
As you turn to a man of two worlds
Taobh ri taobh, tha sinn mar aon de dha shaoghail
LÃ mh nam lÃ imh, gabhadh aithne air linn a dh'fhalbh
Reading passages of ancient rhyme
Cut so deep, so old
Telling tales of travelers and mystery
Hearing spirits never far removed Calling out aloud
When the time comes, they'll talk to me
Hand fighting hand
As you turn to a man of two worlds
Taobh ri taobh, tha sinn mar aon de dha shaoghail's mo lÃ mh nad lÃ imh, gabhadh aithne air na tÃ-rian chÃ©ine
Hand fighting hand
As you turn to a man of two worlds
Feel the presence moving into me
Painting pictures with its words
Oh, seeing places that I've never seen
Like a door thrown open
On a life I've lived before
Taobh ri taobh, do lÃ mh nam lÃ imh
Tha sinn mar aon de dha shaoghail
Taobh ri taobh, do lÃ mh nam lÃ imh
Tha sinn mar aon de dha shaoghail

Songwriters

ALLEN, CHRISTOPHER THOMAS / CANN, WARREN REGINALD / CURRIE, WILLIAM / URE,

MIDGE
Published by

Lyrics Â© Universal Music Publishing Group Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnyrics.com/>