3000 Miles

Emblem3

First winter's snowfall
Throwing backyard snowballs
Warming up by the fireplace
Marshmallows catch fire on an open flame
All my friends get together
Wishing I was there but I'm never
Living in the sunshine oh but dreaming of a place called home

I wanna run wanna run away-ay
I'm dreaming of a place called home
I could try but I'm stuck in today
I'm dreaming of a place that's 3000 miles away
Feels like is forever
Seems like yesterday
We were we were running 'round town together
This place, just ain't the same
I miss the stormy weather
I'm not okay
3000 miles away

You don't pick up but I keep redialing
Cause you're asleep got your phone on silent
Still early here I'm wide awake
I just wanna hear you tell me all about today
Although I never really showed it
I had to leave for me to notice
That living in the sunshine's cold I'm dreaming of a place called home

I wanna run wanna run away-ay
I'm dreaming of a place called home
I could try but I'm stuck in today
I'm dreaming of a place that's 3000 miles away
Feels like is forever
Seems like yesterday
We were we were running 'round town together
This place, just ain't the same
I miss the stormy weather
I'm not okay

3000 miles

If I could go back for the weekend
Or just for a day
To see to see familiar faces, that's all it would take
But it's too far

[x2:]
3000 miles away
Feels like it's forever
Seems like yesterday
We were we were running around town together
This place, just ain't the same
I miss the stormy weather
I'm not okay
3000 miles away
