Chris Coco & Afterlife

Lonely thoughts they seep, into mind
    Into me, pushing deep
Wash the dirt, a hard days work
    Know my place
    On my own
    No poison in my bones
    On my own
This is where I build my home
    My home
This will always be my home
    I work until it's late
Walk in and close the gate
    I look in the window
    And I gaze at my face
Every line and every abrasion
    This took my life to make
    This took my life to make
    On my own
    No poison in my bones
    On my own
This is where I build my home
    My home
    I need someone to hold
    I need someone to hold
    My home
This will always be my home
This will always be my home
