

Living The Dream

Crystal Fighters

So many nights I spend alone
Out in the wild, tryin' to find a new way
I've been gone for years, nobody left that home
Am I ever coming back again? I don't even need a reason, reason
You're my strength you keep me breathing, breathing
Been so long all this eternity, eternity
I know we're meant to be, yeah you and me can be Living the dream, we got everything we need
To be living the dream, it's our call with destiny
Please bring it on, now come and get me
Won't you take me now? I know I'm ready
To be living the dream. Living the dream
Tonight I guess I have to ride my luck
Out in the world, searching for a better day
Since forever I've been fighting tears
But still all I see is you, you're coming back again I don't even need a reason, reason
You're my strength you keep me breathing, breathing
Been so long all this eternity, eternity
Knowing all is just the way you and me will be Living the dream, we got everything we need
To be living the dream, it's our call with destiny
Please bring it on, now come and get me
Won't you take me now? I know I'm ready
To be living the dream. Living the dream You and me, yeah
You and me, yeah
Yeah, we could be
So bring it on now come and get me
Take me now, I know I'm ready
The time is now, I said 'are you ready?'
I know I'm ready to be, to be Living the dream, we got everything we need
To be living the dream, it's our call with destiny
Please bring it on, now come and get me
Won't you take me now? I know I'm ready
To be living the dream. Living the dream Living the dream, we got everything we need
To be living the dream, it's our call with destiny
Please bring it on, now come and get me
Won't you take me now? I know I'm ready
To be living the dream. Living the dream
