Moonlight Over Paris

Vanessa Williams

You say you've been overseas, I say over where?
You say just a holiday, my Alsatian heir
I say I've been working late, working overtime
Haven't seen the sun since eighty-nineDoes the moonlight shine on Paris after the sun goes down?
If the London Bridge is falling, will anybody hear a sound?
If you follow the sunset, will it ever end?
Does the moonlight shine on Paris?Oh and how can you just walk away, is it something that I said?
I see only black and white, you see green and red
You believe in the miracles, water into wine
I believe it when it makes the New York timesDoes the moonlight shine on Paris after the sun goes down?
If the London Bridge is falling, will anybody hear a sound?
If you follow the sunset would it ever end?
Does the moonlight shine on Paris?Does the moonlight shine on Paris after the sun goes down?
If the London Bridge is falling, will anybody hear a sound?
If you follow the sunset will it ever end?
Does the moonlight shine on Paris?Does the moonlight shine on Paris after the sun goes down?
If the London Bridge is falling, will anybody hear a sound?
If you follow the sunset, will it ever end?
Does the moonlight shine on Paris, will it ever end, will it ever end?

Lyrics provided by
https://damnlyrics.com/