

Living in Confusion

Phyllis Hyman

I believed in you
I thought you could do no wrong
Until I saw one day
That you were stringing me along
Played me for a fool
You used me once too much
I'm in so much pain
Here I am again Trust is a hard thing
To come by these days
You build me up
To let down
Got me spinning around
I wish I knew
Where you were coming from
You told me you loved me
I thought I was your only one Seems like I'm always going through changes
Living in confusion
Confusion, confusion
Seems like I'm always going through changes
Living in confusion, confusion I had faith in you
Just knew you wouldn't hurt me
But you played a game
You should be ashamed
I let my gaurd down
I was so vulnerable
I hope you had your fun
Don't you know I was loyal to you Truth is a hard thing
To come by these days
You build me up to break me down
Got me spinning around
I wish I knew where you were coming from
You told me you loved me
I thought I was only one Seems like I'm always going through changes
Living in confusion
Confusion, Confusion
Seems like I'm always going through changes
Living in confusion
Confusion I deserve better
I'm not gonna take no more

You build me up to let me down
Got me spinning around
I'm gonna find
Find me somebody new
A love I can count on
Loving you see it ain't you
Oh Seems like I'm always going through changes
Living in confusion
Confusion, confusion
Seems like I'm always going through changes
(Confusion)
(Ad libs and chorus till fade)
