

Don't Be Surprised

Lily Bee

Don't be surprised by the way that he sighs
And if he offers you the stars up above
Don't be surprised by the look in his eyes
And if it tells you that he's falling in love

Don't be surprised if his hands are tied
He'll ask to run his fingers through yours
Don't be surprised if he swallows his pride
To tell you you're the only one he adores

(Bridge)

Oh, don't you try to hide it
Don't even deny it
You've seen that look before
I'd run out of fingers
Counting all the boys that linger around your back door

Don't be surprised if you realize
That you're holding back on something good
Don't be surprised if you compromise
And do what you thought you never would

(Bridge)

Don't be surprised by the way that he sighs
And if he promises the stars up above
Don't be surprised if you compromise
Because you can't stop falling in love
You can't stop falling in love
You can try, but
You can't stop falling in love
