Lemon Yellow Black

Jets to Brazil

do you know what would be good right here? some yellow a touch of humility, an original sin or two half the math double the myth they told you to no aftertaste no residue chop chop you're through our good order taker has what it takes to make it it's up to you unflinching trigger finger coffee fetcher to the letter see it through riddles don't stupefy because at the moment we want to not know you to better know you don't be so german pick it up prick up the usual amount no fingerprints no proper names our finest scotch to wash it down good french collaborator, we heard you made great waiters make us proud no job to small or messy your lack of feeling pleasing we'll keep you around daughters of the revolution you're freezing in your furs well-heeled atrocity show the finishing school is done the appropriate responses are wrong for once in you life, man, just think unemployed war heroes hating the peace time march that's right these things come back to you

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/