

Hungerlove

Connersvine

It seems you're fixed forever
In a world so close to here
Though I see you running from me
The more you run, the more you're near 'Cause I was there in the beginning
And I will be there in the end
With a heart that's beating for you
And a love that wants to mend Can you feel my love arising
Falling down from up above?
Can you see my heart's horizon?
Can you feel my hunger love? When the world has left you lonely
And you've finally had enough
You'll know my feet are running
Running for my hunger love Let me show you perfect passion
Let me take you far away
From a life without direction
Where you've played it safe Welcome to the days of danger
Risk and security
Where love will change your nature
If you will just believe Can you feel my love?
Can you taste my love?
Feel my love
Taste my love
