

Sunny Mystery

a-ha

You can run through every forest
You can sail in the seven seas
You can climb the highest mountain
To try and dissolve these memories In case you never knew it
You can't undo it You can jump off the edge of the world
Hide out in some monastery
Lose your mind in meditation
And never put your mind at ease You think you're running to it
But you are wading through it
A sunny mystery Life is the dream that you wake up to Dreams are the life from which you wake
Everybody makes the extra effort
Never knowing what to do But you know the answer
Yeah, you know the score
It feels just like before It's a sunny mystery
That's how it's got to be
Because no one knows for sure
The outcome of this
Sunny mystery
