Love Song

Joey McIntyre

If I could only teach my heart to talk
If I could only get my words to walkI put pen to paper
I tried to write a letter
But sunshine I just got the words wrongI love you more than ever
I can't say it any better
So I had to put it in a love songAnd if I never took the time to say
What I am feeling deep inside todayWe'd fall from the graces
I'd try to sing your praises
But I'm sure I'd just get the words wrongI love you more than ever
I can't say it any better
So I had to put it in a love songIf love is so damn hard then tell me why we stay
And give ourselves as fools not knowing what's at stake
We offer up some empty words like we got what it takesSo baby let me take the time...I lean on the razor
And I bleed on the paper
But I'm still getting all the words wrongI love you more than ever
I can't say it any better
So I had to put it in a love song
