Memory Of Me

Holly Williams

Love no more, I have got a prayer
I ask forgiveness everywhere
Devil unseen, please stop bothering me
I've got a broken man to repair
Brakes aren't working now
I'm trying to stop this train
Desperation, loneliness and pain
Nothing's up ahead, the lights are supposed to be there
And you probably think I never cared
And I hope to God one day you find some peace
With the memory of me
Now it's all in your head, and I'm the one at fault
Maybe I never loved you at all
I'd like to say I did, but I just don't know how

My heart could do the damage I allowed
The victim of my youth, the soldier of my dread
And I left all those tears in your bed
And I hope to God one day you'll find some peace
With the memory me
My potential is improving, my reckless days more calm
I know you won't believe me when I'm singing you this song
But damn I wanted to please you, I just didn't have the will
I was never looking for someone to keep me still, now I see
And so, if you pass this way again, if you feel the need
I'd love to hear the words that wait for me
But you don't need my sympathy, you're stronger than I think
I know you'll find your peace with the memory of me
