

The Day the Earth Stole Heaven

Nine Horses

Let me tell you about a friend
She contends she will always love meIt's this ability to lie and deceive
That has lost me completelyLa la la la
La la la laI could remind her of the facts
Make her calm down and relax but why botherIt's the shallowest defense
To my utter astonishment it is overThat little girl she wants to leave me
That little girl wants something moreI'm optimistically inclined
Given time she'll change her mind, it's unlikelyLet me tell you about a friend
She contends she will always love meIf you look at her sideways she will let you know
Today's the day the earth stole HeavenIf you look at her sideways she will curse you out
Today's the day the earth stole HeavenIf you look at her sideways
There can be no doubt, it's over
It's over
