The Lotus Eaters

Nevermore

Why is this happening to me?
Why have I been forsaken?
Nothing numbs the pain any longer
Please, I'm slipping awayWe fall into the spaces blind
The puzzle so unkind, the lotus eaters fly
We watch the random pattern form
Insidious and cold and bloom into the unknownPlease, God, why can't You hear us?
Please, God, why aren't You listening?We take the hand of fate in vain, and wonder why Your will
Seems cruel controlled and illogical
Do words fall on deaf ears, are we just too small?
Please make us understandPlease, God, why can't You hear us?
Please, God, why aren't You listening?
Please, God, why must we fear You?
Please, God, why did You take her away?Please, God, why can't You hear us?
Please, God, why aren't You listening?
Please, God, why must we fear You?
Please, God, why did You take her away?Are we Your children?
Are we lost?
