Like Moths to Flames

So, please help me 'cause I can't believe.
Won't you help me 'cause I don't believe in this world.

Lost my way back,
it's safe to say I had this coming.
Lost myself again,
I've been searching but found nothing.

Can't make me whole again.
No matter what you try,
you can't wash away my sins.
Still feeling worthless, without something to give me purpose.

How will I find my way out of this?
Why did I do this to myself again.
They said the water would wash away all my sins.

I never believed them.
They can't escape from the changing seasons.
Too numb to know what I've been feeling.
Don't preach at me like I need your healing.

Lost my way back,
it's safe to say I had this coming.
Lost myself again,
I've been searching but found nothing.

I can't find the truth in the lies,
no matter how hard I try.
So, please help me 'cause I can't believe.
Won't you help me 'cause I don't believe in this world.

Can't make me new again.
No matter what you think,
I've given up on everything.
Still feeling worthless, without something to give me purpose.

Giving up on myself has never looked so inviting.
Giving up on myself has never looked so inviting.

How will I find my way out of this?
Why did I do this to myself again.
They said the water would wash away all my sins.

Lost my way back,
it's safe to say I had this coming.
Lost myself again,
I've been searching but found nothing.

I can't find the truth in the lies,
no matter how hard I try.
So, please help me 'cause I can't believe.
Won't you help me 'cause I don't believe in this world.

They said the water would wash away all my sins.
I never believed them.
