What You Leave Behind

Sarah Kelly

I don't care anymore
I can't lie to you now
I know I've pushed you too far
I can't turn it aroundAll I have is wrapped up in you
Don't take it away...take it away
Anything that I have to do
I'm gonna do to stayYou don't know what you're holding
'Til it's taken
You don't know what you're made of
'Til you're breaking
And you don't know the fate of one mistake
'Til you realize, what you leave behindI can't talk anymore
My chest hurts when I breathe
This is not what I'd hoped for
I still want to believeI can feel the pain that I've caused I'd take it away, take it away
Any price that I have to pay
I'm gonna pay to stayYou don't know what you're holding
'Til it's taken
You don't know what you're made of
'Til you're breaking
And you don't know the fate of one mistake
'Til you realize, what you leave behindYou never know 'til it's gone
'Til it's goneAll I have is wrapped up in you
Don't take it away...take it away
Anything that I have to do
I'm gonna do to stayYou don't know what you're holding
'Til it's taken
You don't know what you're made of
'Til you're breaking
And you don't know the fate of one mistake
'Til you realize, what you leave behind
You realize, what you leave behind
