Spilling Faith

Ben Harper

Things are looking up today
How long have I been looking down?
Traded a blue sky today
For the cold hard ground
Don't let one day go to waste
I'm filling space, I'm spilling faith
Things are looking up today
I didn't have to look away
There's so much to be said for letting go
So much tomorrow only knows
Don't let one day go to waste
I'm filling space, I'm spilling faith
I'm filling space, I'm spilling faith
I'm filling space, I'm spilling faith
Today it all became so clear
Looked out my window, not in my mirror
Make the book that is your life
Worth reading
Don't let one day go to waste
I'm filling space, I'm spilling faith
I'm spilling faith
If we look out the door
We can get there from here
If we look out the door
We can get there from here
If we look out the door
We can get there from here
