

The Diner

Ani DiFranco

I'm calling from the diner, the diner on the corner
I ordered two coffees, one is for you
I was hoping you'd join me 'cause I ain't got no money
And I really miss you I should mention that too
Yes, I know what time it is, in fact, I just checked
I even know the date and the month and the year
I know I haven't been sleeping and when I do
I just dream of you dear
I miss watching you drool on your pillow
I miss watching you pull on your clothes
I miss listening to you in the bathroom
Flushing the toilet, blowing your nose
I'm calling from the diner, the diner on the corner
I ordered two coffees, one is for you
The cups are so close, the steam is rising
In one stream how are you
