Supernatural Force

Sebadoh

You know she's lost her mind for good this time
Every thought's dragged around with a weight behind
She sees herself in need of repair
Maybe someone'll help her lay her soul down bare
If you see the patient never compromising
Short of wonder, I wouldn't be surprised
Her lilac breath reminds me of you
She gives a sign, doesn't mind being stalked
Tension dissolves, she's taking off her socks
Draws in the sky, doesn't mind me at all
Curls up and away then the line dissolves
Without hesitation I sail the course
Exploration, a supernatural force
White eyes grow at what I detect
Pulling us both into the pretend
Glorious connection due to end
Advertising innocence floating in the air
Unearth the seed, blew it up and it scattered everywhere
