

My Molasses

AWOLNATION

I think I'd like to shift this weight off my chest
Soon as I figure out my right from my left
Don't make me smoke from the golden cigar
Don't make me go and wait in the car
I thought the party started quarter to nine
Soon after found out that I'd ruined the surprise
They all just stood there laughing loud as can be
Like sugar canes my face was melting To molasses

To molasses

You can call

To molasses

Sometimes I wanna trade this brain for a new
And picking memories along with the view
Please don't mistake this for a hell of a time
Hold back my tears, so I don't spoil your wine
I thought the party started quarter to nine
Felt like an idiot for ruining the night
They all stood stinking from the salt in their sea
Like sugar canes my face was melting To molasses

To molasses

You can call

To molasses

Yes you can melt me

Then you can swallow

I'll slowly creep down your throat, and turn

My, my, my, my molasses

My, my, my, my molasses

My, my, my, my molasses

You can call

My, my, my, my molasses

My, my, my, my molasses

My, my, my, my molasses

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>