I'll Call Your Name

Dima Lancaster

VERSE 1

I'm leafing though the chapters of my life
To see what happened then and what is now
Is that enough to make me feel alive?
If there's another part of me that lives inside your heart
I'll be the one who can always make it shine somehow
And even in the darkest nights my voice will never be too far

CHORUS 1

To make the moments count and to know you're running though them with the sweetest smile that I've seen,
To light the way as you step on this sloping road and keep on moving forward, I will Call a name I'm longing for,
Call the name that only you know
I'll find you there, in dreams we shared
That called us once before

To catch the sigh you breathe when everything around becomes a little dull you want to give in
To paint your heart a million colors if someday it gets a little lonely, I will Call a name I'm longing for,
Call the name that only you know,
So you could see that I am always there
Like when you called mine before

With every bit of air I'm breathing out
I'm getting closer to the happiness they talk about
This funny feeling that I found
You smiled like you believed my words, so sing with me aloud

CHORUS 2

And even if the future is so bright it covers everything in light and blinds my eyes,
And even if the only reason that I live is seeing it unwrap before me, I'll shout

Out my name like I did before,
Shout the name that only you know
'I'll stay right here,' can you still hear my words?
I'll stay with you through it all

BRIDGE

Sometimes I think I don't belong
Moments spent in silence watching the sky, they seem forever long
But I lift my head and then I hear someone calling from afar, Calling my name and now I can see that My heart will always be right where you are

CHORUS 3

To make the moments count and
to know you're running though them with the sweetest smile that I've seen,
To light the way as you step on this sloping road and keep on moving forward, I will Call a name I'm longing for,
Call the name that only you know
I'll find you there, in dreams we shared
That called us once before

To catch the sigh you breathe when everything around becomes
a little dull you want to give in
Call a name I'm longing for,
Call the name that only you know,
So you could see that I am always there
Like when you called mine before

Call a name I'm longing for
Call the name that only you know
