All Night Long

Spectrum

All night long, waiting for you
Waiting to see what you will do
Quarter to eight I'll be standing here
Waiting to see if you'll appear or not

All night long, waiting for you
Standing here with nothing to do
Even the birds wait for you to show
But they're not telling all they know about you

All night long, feeling so low
'Cause I can't say if you will show
Quarter to nine I'm still standing here
My feelings built. Do you appear or not

All night long, wanting to call
Time creeps by as darkness falls
All night long, watching the time
Wondering why there's still no sign of you

All night long, watching for you
Dreaming of all the things you will do
Ten o'clock, still standing here
Every hour seems like a year or more

All night long, I'm wondering why
You left me here high and dry
All night long, my hopes disappear
Thinking of you, holding my tears

I could cry
I could cry
I could cry
I could cry

Please don't break my heart
Please don't break my heart
Please don't break my heart
Please don't break my heart
