

New Wars

Black Bomb A

It's my own way
And you'll come to meLike a symphony life is written
With its powerful moments
No desire to control it
Life is the thing that
Makes me forge ahead
I owe it my existenceCant you see in my eyes
The mistakes I've done
And the desire to put it right
Cant you feel in my silences
The need to break self-defensesLet me manage my life
Let me be to become what I am
Dont engage new wars
Ive being listening to you
So if only you could let me speakWhy dont you listen to your fellows?
Are you afraid they could be wrong?
Out of the way, you can't be strong
Open yourself to the world and rise upIm fightin against myself
And so Im changing my way of life
When Im seized with disgust
Im losin controlIm fightin against myself
And so Im changing my way of life
When Im seized with disgust
Losing controlLet me manage my life
Let me be to become what I am
Dont engage new wars
Ive being listening to you
So if only you could let me speakI need some help
I have no more time
