Saving Grace

.38 Special

Without direction I walked the night
I was alone, a single beam of light
One glance and you changed my blues
To a prism of light, a thousand huesNow I must climb to the rainbows arc
Who knows I might find a halo for your heart
Whenever I'm lost for words
And my whole world's fallin' apartYou are my saving grace
You are the light of a love everlasting
I find a hiding place in your arms
My one and only saving grace, my saving graceI fought the world with a restless heart
Kept my emotions locked away in the dark
Then you came to build me up
When this world could only tear me apartYou are my saving grace
You are the light of a love everlasting
An' I find a hiding place in your arms
My one and only saving graceFor the rest of your life you can count on me
To never let you down
When you whisper to me, you give me strength to believe
That I can hold on somehowOoh, you are my saving grace
You are the light of a love everlasting
I find a hiding place in your arms
My one and only saving grace, saving graceYou are my light and my love of a everlasting
An' I find a hiding place in your arms
My one and only saving grace
My saving grace, saving grace
