One More Night

Stephen Bishop

Everyone keeps telling me I'm something I'm not
They fill me with questions that tear me apart
But through it all it was you who pulled me out
So please don't leave me nowJust give me one more night to hold you
One more night
Give me one more night to have you nearThere's a man at the train stop with tears in his eyes
Reminds me of so long ago when I was able to cry
Now I'm strong slip away and laugh along
With anyone who needs someone blueJust give me one more night to hold you
One more night
Give me one more night to have you nearWhat can I say to make you stay?
I'd do anything, I'd give everythingTo have just one more night to hold you
One more night
Give me one more night to have youGive me one more night
Give me one more night
Give me one more night
One more night
One more night
Give me one more night
