

Is There Anybody Out There?

DANakaDAN

(Clara)

Hmm...

A-a- (hmm...) anybody out there

Hmm...

Hmm...

A-a-anybody out there(Dan)

Is there anybody,

God are you listening

Cuz something in my life, has damn sure been missing

Was never searching for, but seems like I found it

To be now surrounded, by something I had doubted

And when they told me, mixed feelings and sorrow

Sleep on it I thought, comprehend it tomorrow

But with tomorrow came no answers, no time to process

To ingest what had just happened, so it amounted to stress

You didn't believe it at first, how convenient at first

For it to be there all of sudden, how did it happen, you searched

And I confess I didn't feel something, at least a real something

People would ask me all the time, I lied to conceal something

Would they hate me, cuz I'd hate me

Would they get to know, the real or a fake me

Would my family here, feel loved or abandoned

And if I told you the truth, would you understand it

But for some reason it worked,

two worlds emerged,
Two mothers had nursed, for myself on this earth I'm grateful for it, but damn this story is way out there When always has me asking,
(Clara +Dan)
Is there anybody out there(Clara)
Hope they're still waiting for me
Cuz I'm feeling so scared (so scared)
But I know through this I can be free (be free) Cuz if I keep on, I know I'll know I'll find
It will all get better in time (in time)
Is anybody out there (is there anybody)
Cuz I know they're still waiting, you're still waiting for me(Dan) Do you feel the same as I do, does all this remind you Of a time you were at your lowest, just trying to find you With no one around for you, to ever think or relate So you close off yourself, and these feeling they fade I can't be the only one, who has this need to connect Can't say what we really feel, we have this need to protect I lacked compassion in my life, zero passion for my life I took it out on my mother, to transfer over to my wife We're growing further apart, we've turned it into an art Of how to isolate ourselves, on the quicker we part How ironic cuz we long for it, a need to belong to it So writing this song is my admission,
I have been wrong to it It's crazy where life has taken, whether my story will make it I can't believe what has happened, this shit you can't fake it I'm happy for the good fortunes, but even more for the challenges Someone's watching over me, this is my way to acknowledge it(Clara) Is there anybody out there (out there)

Hope they're still waiting for me
Cuz I'm feeling so scared (so scared)
But I know through this I can be free (be free)
Cuz if I keep on, I know I'll know I'll find
It will all get better in time
Is anybody out there Cuz I know they're still waiting,
you're still waiting on me(Dan)
Is there anybody,
who's watching over I believe in God, but I question as I get older Will my burdens be shouldered, Can I remain a soldier, between doing what is right sometimes, and what i know is colder And it's a scary proposition, from this place of my vision When I can't even trust myself, with simple moral decisions I know it's wrong for me to question, or even trying to test you But it's hard sometimes, when I stare at myself in the restroom That's why can I be open, can I say I took it for granted Of what could be offered in life, this is my time to be candid Never mind, I'll just get faded, besides thinking is overrated And i just want to escape, that to face what I've created So tell me is there anybody out, that you know without a doubt Can explain to me all this and what life is all about To live or live without,
We're wondering what is out
So it's always got me asking,
(Clara+Dan)
Is there anybody out there (out there)(Clara)

Hope they're still waiting for me
Cuz I'm feeling so scared (so scared)
But I know through this I can be free
Cuz if I keep on, I know I'll know I'll find
It will all get better in time (in time)
Is anybody out there (is there anybody)
Cuz I know they're still waiting,
you're still waiting on me(Dan)
Is there anybody(Clara)
A-a-anybody out there
