To the Solar System

Ayreon

"Finally we are approaching our own familiar solar system. But there is something wrong.
Reality begins to break through the illusion. I have an unsettling premonition that even here inside my virtual journey I will never reach the Earth..."[Robert Soeterboek][A. PLANET OF BLUE]I can feel the sun burning on my skin I can feel the sun from deep within I can hear the earth calling out my name
I can hear the earth crying out in painI'm coming home to the planet of blue
Our own sun is coming into view
I'm reaching out to the planet of blue
Can you see me fly?
Can you feel me die?I can almost touch the glorious rings of Saturn
But then I feel them slip away
I can almost see the yellow clouds of Venus
But then the sequence slowly fadesI'm coming home to the planet of blue Is this the end, can it be true?
I'm reaching out to the planet of blue
Can you see me try?
Can you feel me die?[B. SYSTEM ALERT]Dream Sequencer system alert warning - core processor buffer overload please abort Universal Migrator sequence System failure imminent return to consciousness, return to consciousness, return to consciousness...

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/