

Sunglasses At Night - Fictional Story Version

Ethan Evans

I wear my shades at night cuz the light coming from outside is so bright.
streetlights shining through my window is blinding me, do you get me bro?

Don't need no light, my shades got night vision. Having no light is my decision, just waiting for the lights to go out so I can just explore my vision. Finally the lights go out and I can, see in the dark. And I find myself in an empty building, this must be a dream so I start exploring.

There's no one here it's just me, I'm on my own but at least I can see. I need to find an exit, I need to get out, I need to break free, there's no doubt

How the fuck do I get, out of here.
(alive)

I'm all alone, there's no one who's near
(who's near, ooh)

How the fuck do I wake up from this dream?
(this dream, oooh)

I need to break free, I need to break free.

I wear my shades at night cuz the light coming from outside is so bright.
streetlights shining through my window is blinding me, do you get me bro?

Don't need no light, my shades got night vision. Having no light is my decision, just waiting for the lights to go out so I can just explore my vision. Finally the lights go out and I can, see in the dark. And I find myself in an empty building, this must be a dream so I start exploring.

There's no one here it's just me, I'm on my own but at least I can see. I need to find an exit, I need to get out, I need to break free, there's no doubt

How the fuck do I get, out of here.
(alive)

I'm all alone, there's no one who's near
(who's near, ooh)

How the fuck do I wake up from this dream?
(this dream, oooh)

I need to break free, I need to break free.

I need to break free. I need to break free.
(break free)

I need to break free from this dream.
(this dream, this dream)

I wear my shades at night, to stop the light coming in so bright.

(yeah, yeah, yeah)
I wear my shades at night, to protect me.
(protect me)

Lyrics Submitted by Tombo [fictional story version]

Lyrics provided by
<https://damlyrics.com/>