Kamikaze

Ghettobillies

Everything we got
Though its seems like its a lot
Maybe its just not enough to win
Knowing through the clouds
I can still hear the crowds
Cheering out loud
We will win

We've been here to do this fate
There is no parachute that waits
The point is moot
It's all just laid in victory
The target is approaching
I've received all the coaching
And now I am encroaching on my enemy

Coming down from above
Wrapping you in velvet gloves
Giving you all the love I have to give
Holding me inside of you
Sweating like the morning dew
Everything is feeling new
I want to live
I want to live

My adversary has no shield
To guard them from the blade I wield
Now its seems their doom is sealed
In one soft kiss
Suddenly I'm gripped by dread
Guilty thoughts inside my head
And I think of what my lover said
Please don't do this
Now it only comes I've learned
Commanded by my emperor
My normal strike is swift and sure to win
My empire of the sun is better
Love and lust is won

I've given in and now I'm done - no one wins

Coming down from above
Wrapping you in velvet gloves
Giving you all the love I have to give
Holding me inside of you
Sweating like the morning dew
Everything is feeling new
I want to live
I want to live
