

20 bpm

Roxette

you want the streets at midnight you want to shine in dim light those walks are made for poets don't look like you don't know it you want a soul survivor you want a beauty palour a space to last forever no blues can lose the colour oh baby don't you know when things are getting slow make a crazy prediction melt the facts with the fiction underground with perfection
baby make the connection another 20 bpm in your life it's alright you want the diamond clover you want the bossa nova you never end the sway until you won me over you dream under the pillow you write your name in silver a wall is built for poets don't look like you don't know it baby don't you know when things are getting slow make a crazy prediction melt the science with fiction
underground with perfection
baby make the connection
another 20 bpm in your life
it's alright oh baby don't you know when things are getting slow make a crazy prediction
melt the facts with the fiction
underground with perfection
honey make the connection another 20 bpm in your life it's alright.

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>